

Amy Richardson, MBA, PMP

Amy holds a Master of Business Administration and Bachelor of Business Administration in Accounting from Augusta University's James M. Hull College of Business. Following the completion of her MBA, she was with the business school as their Business Engagement Coordinator where she served as a liaison and representative of the College for over 3 years. Amy transitioned out of higher education and into the world of entrepreneurship in early 2020 launching Richardson Professional Solutions, an Augusta-based business that serves other small businesses, non-profits, and family estates. Their team of 10 manages the back-end work of your organization so that you can make time for what matters most to you. Her academic background, combined with 10-plus years of practical experience, allows her to offer unique insights into business engagement, relationship management, project management, and a drive for excellence.

Amy volunteers on the board of her local Business Networking International (BNI) chapter where she serves other local businesses and is a Chapter Success Coach for the Augusta Region BNI Community. She also volunteers on the board of the Augusta-Aiken chapter of the Project Management Institute (PMI) where she is the chapter President and on the planning committee for their annual Professional Development Day (PDD) conference. She is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP), QuickBooks Online Pro Advisor, a Notary Public in the State of Georgia, and a 2023 Leadership Columbia County graduate. She is continuing to support her fellow local leaders by serving on the Leadership Columbia County Steering Committee and Augusta University's Summerville Alumni Association board.

When Amy isn't serving her clients, holding speaking engagements, or volunteering in her community, she enjoys reading, traveling, a few rock or heavy metal concerts here and there, and spending time with family.
